Summary

Learning HTML in the university, I became very interested in this topic and decided to study it in depth. Without hesitation I signed up for a course on HTML/CSS in the computer school.

After completing the course, I realized that I wanted to plunge headlong into study and I have gone on to my next course on JavaScript.

Now, I can with certainty say that Front-End is the main thing which I want to engage in and I am developing in it every day.
